Office Action Summary	Application No. 09/900,458	Applicant(s) NICHOLS ET AL.
	Examiner John B. Walsh	Art Unit 2151

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 67 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 67, line 12 recites “multiple server providers”. It appears “server” should be “service”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 67, 70, 74, 75, 77, 79, 80, 82, 83, 85-87, 89 and 90 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 7,233,992 to Muldoon et al.

As concerns claim 67, a portal for a private network exchange having multiple service providers, comprising an authentication resource configured to: receive a request to log into the private network (column 3, line 63; column 2, line 43) exchange; access a profile (column 4, lines 63-64) of a user associated with the request; authenticate the user (column 4, lines 8-10; column 6, lines 19-28) associated with the request to a plurality of applications associated with the private network exchange; receive a selected application (column 2, line 56) of the plurality of applications; and send data representing an authorization of the user to access the plurality of applications to the selected application (column 4, lines 8-10; column 6, lines 19-28); wherein the portal is not visible to the Internet (column 4, line 1; column 1, lines 37-47); wherein the request to log into the private network exchange is received from a first company (col. 1, line 48- a first company of the different companies; col. 4, lines 58-59) through a first server provider (inherent to have a “service provider” for first company; col. 6, lines 54-60) of the multiple service providers, wherein the data representing the authorization of the user to access the plurality of applications is sent to the selected application through a second service provider (service provider of second company; col. 6, lines 54-60; col. 9, lines 52-53 – each has a native environment; col. 8, lines 55-60) of the multiple service providers, the first service provider being different from the second service provider (providers are providing for different companies).

As concerns claims 70 and 83, wherein the profile includes service authorizations representative of services to which the user is authorized to access and groups to which the user belongs (column 4, lines 63-64).

As concerns claims 74 and 85, wherein the portal is accessible through a web-browser (column 2, line 42).

As concerns claims 75 and 86, wherein the portal comprises a set of web pages (column 2, line 42).

As concerns claims 77 and 87, wherein the portal is configured to retrieve information from a public Internet site and to display the retrieved information (column 2, lines 43-49).

As concerns claims 79 and 89, the authentication resource is further configured to generate the data (column 6, lines 19-28).

As concerns claims 80 and 90, the data is a user object (column 6, lines 12-37).

As concerns claim 82, a portal for a private network exchange having multiple service providers, a method for representing an authorization to access a plurality of applications comprising: receiving a request to log into the private network (column 3, line 63; column 2, line 43) exchange; accessing a profile (column 4, lines 63-64) of a user associated with the request; authenticating (column 4, lines 8-10; column 6, lines 19-28) the user associated with the request to a plurality of applications associated with the private network exchange; receiving a selected application (column 4, lines 8-10; column 6, lines 19-28) of the selected applications; and sending data representing an authorization of the user to access the plurality of applications to the selected application (column 4, lines 8-10; column 6, lines 19-28); wherein the portal is not visible to the Internet (column 4, line 1; column 1, lines 37-47); wherein the request to log into the private network exchange is received from a first company (col. 1, line 48-a first company of the different companies; col. 4, lines 58-59) through a first server provider (inherent to have a “service provider” for first company; col. 6, lines 54-60) of the multiple service providers, wherein the data representing the authorization of the user to access the plurality of applications is sent to the selected application through a second service provider (service provider of second company; col. 6, lines 54-60; col. 9, lines 52-53 – each has a native environment; col. 8, lines 55-60) of the multiple service providers, the first service provider being different from the second service provider (providers are providing for different companies).
